Multi-Colored Brick House to Be Restored

Plans to restore the unusual multi-colored brick house on the Rosendale-High Falls road at Lawrenceville to the Georgian type home originally intended were revealed today by Andrew J. Snyder, the owner.

The home was built in the 1880's by the present Mr. Snyder's grandfather, also named Andrew J. Snyder, and its distinctive feature was the use of a European porcelain-finished brick of a type not seen anywhere else in the area. In the 70 years since the house was erected, the brick has not faded.

Snyder said today that the original plans for the home called for a Georgian architecture, but in the construction it was changed according to the wishes of his grandfather. The remodeling is planned to restore the building as it was originally planned, but the distinctive porcelain brick will be retained as the unusual feature of the home. Snyder said. (Freeman photo)

Anglo Delegation Visits Manchuria

Laborites to View Plants and Mines; Will Meet With Mao

(This is another of the stories by the London Daily Telegraph correspondent accompanying the Labor party group on its visit to China. The Telegraph is an independent conservative newspaper.)

By JOHN RIDLEY
(Arr. With Daily Telegraph, London)

Peiping, Aug. 20 (P)—The British Labor party delegation to China headed for Mukden today and a three-day tour of Manchurian industrial plants. At Anshan they will be shown newly developed steel mills and will inspect various welfare schemes set up for workers.

They then go on to Tongshan to see a coal mine before returning to Peiping Sunday night.

It has now been confirmed that the delegation will meet Mao Tse-tung next week during their three remaining days in Peiping before going on south to Shanghai. The exact time and place of the meeting still are being kept secret.

In fact, everything about Mao seems to be a close-kept secret. He is rarely seen by the public except at exceptional functions. Nobody is quite certain where he lives, though there are various speculations. Since cars of high officials are always curtained, he is never observed in streets of Peiping. The only thing about him that must be well known is his face, a picture of which adorns every government office.

Elmo Lake Dragged for Body of Her Husband; Were in Rowboat

The body of a Linden, N. J., woman was recovered Thursday afternoon from Elmo Lake near Kerhonkson and authorities today were dragging the lake in an attempt to locate the body of her husband.

State police of the Ellenville station said the woman has been identified as Harrietta Keller, 48, of 5 MacArthur Court, Linden.

Still missing and believed drowned is her husband, Max, about 49, of the same address. Troopers said the couple was vacationing at The Willows, a bungalow colony near Kerhonkson.

They were last seen together in a rowboat on the lake at 2:30 p. m. Thursday. Troopers were notified after Mrs. Keller's body was seen floating on the lake surface at 5:30 p. m.

Coroner Michael A. Galletta said death was due to drowning.

The union source said trucker representatives are notifying the firms they plan to ask 12 teamster locals involved to extend the contract to allow more time for negotiations. The area covered runs north from Trenton, N. J., up through Orange and Dutchess counties in New York, including New York city and Long Island.

Bandits Apologize

New York, Aug. 20 (P)—Two bandits invaded an office in the financial district today and apologetically walked off with $38. Their apologies were directed to Harry E. Knight, of Garden City, an accountant for grain and coal shipper John Dowd. When they found nothing of value in Dowd's open safe, they turned to Knight and said: "Sorry, but due to the fact there's nothing in the safe we'll have to take your money." Knight's $38 then was whisked out of his pockets.

Bronx DA Calls For Arrest of 7 Youth Is Shot Mistakenly; Three of Gang Held as Delinquents

New York, Aug. 20 (P)—The Bronx district attorney's office today ordered the arrest of seven youths in connection with the shooting of a teenager who was apparently mistaken as a member of a rival gang.

The seven were picked up during the night in a roundup of alleged members of two feuding gangs. Their arrest was directed after nightlong questioning.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Harry Walters ordered four of the teenagers charged with assault. Three others, under 16, were held on charges of juvenile delinquency.

Thrill Killers Lose Bravado at Sight Of One of Victims

One Who Had 'Supreme Adventure' Sickened—Made to View Man's Body

New York, Aug. 20 (P)—Brooklyn's four thrill-killing teenagers, once boastful about their deeds of violence, turned sick and shaken from the sight of one of their hapless victims.

The "fun" was over for Jack Koslow, 18-year-old leader of the brutal foursome. He wept when confronted yesterday with the battered, water-soaked body of a negro victim and told detectives, "I feel sick."

It was Koslow, who two days earlier had allegedly given police details of the slaying and other savage attack of the night before. At that time he told them: "Last night was a supreme adventure for me."

One by one the four youths were brought onto a Brooklyn waterfront pier to identify the body of William Menter, 34, who ran afoul of his killers in a Brooklyn park Monday night.

Told of Torture

Police knew nothing of the slaying until after the four youths were arrested early Tuesday on an assault complaint and told of beating and torturing a man and throwing him into the East river. Police began dragging the river and yesterday recovered the body.

Koslow, lean and moustached, was the first to be shown the bruised and bloated figure stretched out on the pier. He turned pale and whimpered: "Yes, that's the man. Take me away from here before I faint."

President Plans Hard Control Bid

Makes Two Speeches: Hits at Democrats; Urges World Prayer as Means to Peace

Washington, Aug. 20 (P)—President Eisenhower says administration critics forecasting a depression are pursuing "crooked fence economic policies" — and aides said today this means he intends to fight hard to tighten Republican control of Congress.

Democrats quickly replied to Eisenhower's latest pat on the back for the GOP-run 83rd Congress with notice they are ready to wage the November election battle on the issues of the administration's tax, farm, labor, power and business policies.

The President hit at critics in a speech at the Illinois State Fair in Springfield yesterday. Then he flew on to Evanston in the same state for another, quite different kind of an address.

In that solemn talk at the World Council of Churches General Assembly at Northwestern University, Eisenhower declared the cause of peace in the world "needs God." He voiced faith "certain wondrous results could ensue" from worldwide prayer for international tranquility.

Calls on Leaders

The Chief Executive called on religious leaders everywhere to help launch a "mass dedication" through prayer toward that end.

The President got a warm welcome there in keeping with the solemnity of the occasion. Earlier at Springfield — where the atmosphere was decidedly political — he got a roaring reception from a fairground crowd which Strother Jones, the fair manager, calculated at 100,000. Jones figured the crowd in front of the grandstand stage where Eisenhower spoke at about 20,000.

At Springfield Eisenhower said that while Republicans have been at work — successfully, he added — on the administration's legislative program, "there have been sitting on the sidelines, of course, the prophets of gloom and doom" on the economic outlook.

The President mentioned no names, but obviously was alluding to Democratic critics who have contended the administration was leading the nation into a depression.

Quotes Lincoln Story

In speaking to his fairground audience, Eisenhower said Abraham Lincoln once told a story about a farmer building a fence. Work on all bridges in the area is progressing, including that on the structures near the Route 28 interchange and the Rosendale area.

Toll stations are also being built at Route 28, near Route 299 in the New Paltz area and at Route 17K near Newburgh.

Democrat Says Fall Fight To Be on Several Issues

By JACK BELL

Washington, Aug. 20 (P)—A Democratic leader today replied to President Eisenhower's praise for the Republican-controlled Congress with notice his party will fight the November election battle on the main issues of the administration's tax, farm, labor, power and business policies.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Senate Democratic leader, said in an interview he believes that in the congressional session which may end today his party has "drawn the lines clearly on these issues and the people will decide in November who is right."

Eisenhower in a Springfield, Ill., speech yesterday cited tax reductions, flexible farm price supports, expansion of social security coverage and a claimed 10 billion dollar cut in federal spending as domestic accomplishments of which his administration is proud.

Without direct reference to Eisenhower's remarks, Johnson said he thinks the Democrats have succeeded in dramatizing (Continued on Page 13, Col. 5)

Agreement Is Reached on Bill

Compromise Social Security Measure Would Extend Aid to Extra Millions

Washington, Aug. 20 (P)—Senate-House Conference Committee reached agreement today on a compromise Social Security bill extending coverage to more than 10 million additional persons, and raising benefits and the taxes to pay for them.

The bill, last major piece of legislation holding up adjournment of Congress, was to be rushed to the House floor for expected quick passage at noon, then sent to the Senate for final congressional action.

The conferees settled their major difference by agreeing to put under compulsory coverage 3,600,000 farm operators as asked by President Eisenhower.

Represents Capitulation

This represented a capitulation on the part of the Senate conferees and a victory for Rep. Daniel A. Reed (R-N. Y.) and his House group.

Sen. George (D-Ga.) told reporters he had refused to sign the conference report because of the decision to include the farm operators. He held the proxy of Sen. Byrd (D-Va.), the other Democratic senator on the conference, and said Byrd also would not sign.

Asked if he would oppose the report in the Senate, George said merely he would vote against it, indicating he planned no fight to block it.

The Senate and House versions of the bill were in general agreement on new benefit scales and on raising the tax base from $3,600 to $4,200. Their only major difference lay in just which additional workers should be covered by the legislation.

Woman Is Missing

Boston, Aug. 20 (P)—Joan Ross-Dilley, 24, fourth ranked northern California women's tennis player, was reported missing today and friends feared she is an amnesia victim. Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Marshall, with whom Miss Ross-Dilley had been staying during the National Doubles tennis championships at Longwood Cricket Club, said they had not seen the attractive blonde racket star since Wednesday.

Mahoney Says Harriman Ran Outon Debate Program

New York, Aug. 20 (P)—A state GOP leader said Averell Harriman ran out on a television debate with him last night. Harriman replied he'll debate only with Gov. Thomas E. Dewey or any other possible Republican candidate for the governorship.

Harriman was blasted by State Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney of Buffalo, who said in a statement:

"The second most eager Democratic candidate for governor—Averell Harriman—has clearly shown that he is afraid to discuss state issues."

"Mr. Harriman and I were invited to appear on a television program this evening to discuss the forthcoming state campaign. Mr. Harriman accepted but, only one day before the program was scheduled to go on the air and after I had made arrangements to be in New York city, his office informed the network that he would not appear with me."

"Mr. Harriman's reluctance to discuss state issues is easily understood. Apparently he is unfamiliar with them as he is with the New York city fiscal situation."

Harriman, former mutual security administrator, appeared alone last night on the television show over Dumont's station WABD.

He ignored Mahoney's charge on the telecast, but later issued a statement saying he had offered to debate issues with Dewey or U. S. Senator Irving M. Ives, a possible GOP gubernatorial candidate, "any time and any place," and added:

"I certainly am not going to help Dewey to continue to avoid such debate by hiding behind others."

Dewey has not yet indicated whether he will run for re election.

Appeal Is Made to 2 Countries

President's Statement Made While Foreign Aides Argue French Objections

Washington, Aug. 20 (P)—President Eisenhower told Congress today a firm defense of western Europe against Russian attack will be impossible without German troops to bolster the line.

In a report on the government's foreign aid program during the first six months of this year, Eisenhower again appealed to France and Italy to approve the European army project which would make it possible to add German manpower to Europe's defenses.

"The EDC (European Defense Community)," he said, "offers the best solution for the difficult problem of integrating German armed forces into the European defense system."

Must Have Germans

"No measures to defend free Europe from Soviet aggression can be fully effective without German participation."

The President's forthright plug for the European army project came as foreign ministers of West Germany, Belgium, The Netherlands, Luxembourg and Italy were arguing in Brussels with French Prime Minister Pierre Mendes-France over new French objections to the plan. France and Italy alone of the six countries have not ratified the plan.

Eisenhower said failure to approve EDC during the past six months covered by his report constituted "the most serious single obstacle" to a successful European defense.

Congress last night sent to the White House a bill providing $5,243,575,795 to run the foreign aid program another year, including both military and economic assistance.

Tells of Supplies Sent

The President told Congress that, as part of its drive to bolster the free world, the United States shipped $1,700,000,000 in military supplies during the first half of 1954 to friendly governments around the world.

The new shipments, he said, raised the amount sent overseas since the military aid program began to $4,400,000,000—about $6,700,000,000 to European countries.

New military aid agreements with Japan and Pakistan, he said, have helped strengthen anti-Communist defenses in the Far East, but he acknowledged that Communist gains in Indochina represent a "serious military setback" for the free world.

Must Bolster Base

He said that in order to block further Red drives it would be necessary to strengthen the economic base of Far East countries, thus permitting them to build up their armed forces with economic aid.

He did not identify the nations but speaking of Thailand, which borders Indochina, he said:

"J. S. military assistance to the Thai armed forces has helped build the country's army, navy and air force units to the point where they should be able successfully to ward off any military incursions, unless direct participation by Communist China is involved."

Eisenhower reported the U. S. was re-equipping the Chinese Nationalist Airforce on Formosa with jet warplanes and that some of the tactical units being (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

Present Aid Programs

Present aid programs, he said, also involved improving anti-aircraft defenses on the island stronghold as well as a better "communications wing."

The President gave this breakdown of the numbers and types of weapons shipped overseas to all countries over the past four years: 34,733 tanks and combat vehicles; 188,497 motor transport vehicles; 5,911 aircraft; 784 naval vessels; 45 million rounds of artillery ammunition; 127,403 electronics and signal equipment items and 34,802 artillery pieces.

Bronx DA Calls

seeking two other youths in connection with the shooting of Michael Ciccollella, 17, of 2086 Arthur avenue, the Bronx, who was taken to Fordham Hospital with a small calibre bullet in his chest.

Although his condition was reported as critical, he is expected to recover.

Four 16-year-old youths ordered charged with felonious assault were identified by police as:

Patrick Greene, of 861 Elsmere place; Robert Carrabis, 685 East 176th street; Carmine Letizia, 1852 Bryant avenue; and John O'Connor, 170 East 179th street, all the Bronx.

Arrested Three Times

Police said one of the juveniles had been taken into custody three times previously during burglary investigations.

Police said Ciccollella was not a member of either gang involved in the feud—the Imperial Hoods and the Young Sinners.

He was shot down as he and a friend took shelter in a doorway at Arthur avenue and 179th street, the Bronx. A group of about 10 youths approached him. "Are you the guy we're supposed to meet?" one of the group asked.

Before Michael could reply, another member of the group passed a pistol to the speaker and a single shot was fired.

Police said the Hoods and Sinners had fought a battle Wednesday night and that the Sinners, who came out second best, had threatened to return last night "to get even with you guys."

Detectives believe that Michael was mistakenly identified as a member of the hoods.

When asked at the shooting scene who his assailant was, Michael gasped: "I don't know."

Pay Is Voted

Washington, Aug. 20 (AP)—The Senate today voted a 5 per cent pay raise for upward of two million federal workers. The bill was passed 69-4 after a losing fight by Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) to attach a hike in postal rates to help meet the cost of the pay boost. House action was anticipated quickly. Knowland's postal rate amendment was beaten 55-16.

Makes Appearances

Premier Chou En-lai, on the other hand, makes frequent public appearances and unlike other Communist leaders doesn't appear to have a large entourage of guards. His car, a bullet-proof Russian Zis, is of course curtained also, and I understand that the number plates are frequently changed so that it cannot readily be identified.

Yesterday two members of the British delegation called at the Food Ministry while the others toured the railway marshaling yard and Peiping University.

Last night the eight Laborites went to the summer palace outside Peiping to dine at the Ting Lee Huan restaurant, famous because there can be heard in the evening the song of the golden oriole.

It is doubtful, however, that these birds were heard very clearly last night.

Hardly Silent

A Chinese meal at any time is hardly silent, and in this new China it seems nobody can resist making a speech at the slightest provocation or even less.

Wednesday night, when the banquet was given by the Chinese People's Political Consultative Conference, there were no fewer than 23 toasts, each accompanied by fairly lengthy speeches.

When all the British delegates and various Chinese leaders had been toasted, the glasses were then raised to peace, co-existence, the women of China, friendship with the workers of England, international understanding and abolition of war.

As all these were "gambai" toasts—meaning that the glasses had to be drained—it was perhaps understandable that the British labor delegation looked somewhat harassed when they left the banquet.

President Plans

lot of fences of what they called economic statistics," Eisenhower said with a grin, "but every time they bored through them, they still find themselves on the side of pessimism and depression."

"It seems to me lately that they would like to forget the whole thing, and I think all of us are getting rather tired of crooked fence economic politics."

That speech was the President's personal kick-off of a cross-country tour in the weeks to come in an effort to increase the number of Republicans in the Senate, where they outnumber the Democrats by only one, and in the House where their margin is five.

Eisenhower seemed to enjoy the job and White House aides said today the President is determined to wage a fighting campaign. In all, he spent about 13 hours away from Washington yesterday and still managed to look quite fresh when he stepped from his plane at a National Airport here last night.

Think It Through

By EDWARD F. HUTTON

I'm told that the meat of animals that died thousands of years ago is real tasty if it has been continuously frozen. For myself, I prefer "ham and." But I'm leading up to butter.

Butter gets rancid in less than 1,000 years even if kept at the North Pole. Hence it comes to pass that Herschel D. Newsom, Master of the National Grange, says that a program to liquidate government butter stocks "is immediately necessary."

In short, neighbor, the whole cock-eyed inflexible farm support policy is falling apart because Nature says butter can't compete with mastodon steak after just so long.

At the end of February, the U.S.A., which is US, had 306,949,000 pounds of butter fixing to spoil. A year previous it had only 65,573,000 pounds.

Mr. Hutton If this huge pile of good yellow butter from contented cows is kept from discontented people much longer, a political stench will fill our nostrils, and more people will say that Secretary of Agriculture Benson should a' been listened to long, long ago.

IRAN'S FIVE YEAR PLAN

Premier Fazollah Zahedi of Iran has announced that his government has embarked on an ambitious plan to develop that country. The plan will extend over a five year period and will be paid for with oil revenues and anticipated credits from Britain and the United States.

The plan includes distribution of potentially productive farmland to landless peasants, hydroelectric plant construction, irrigation projects and transportation expansion. The fact that the plan is possible at all is due to the reactivation of the oil industry under recent agreements between Premier Zahedi's government and large oil companies.

Premier Zahedi and the Shah of Iran seem well on their way to undoing the damage that was done by the obstinacy of former Premier Mohammed Mossadegh, the fanatical nationalist leader who drove foreign oil companies from Iran and reduced the country's output of oil to a trickle. Steps are being taken to deal with the poverty of the people and to raise the Iranian standard of living.

Zahedi's plan may not result in a Paradise for his people. But it is a constructive step toward a solution of some of their problems.

IMMIGRATION MUSEUM

President Eisenhower has given his endorsement to a plan to build an American Museum of Immigration at the base of the Statue of Liberty. A Museum National Committee, headed by Pierre S. du Pont III, called at the White House recently to explain the project to the President. The committee plans to raise $5,000,000 to make the Museum a permanent reminder of the contributions made to this country by people from other nations.

The idea of such a Museum is a good one. It would make Americans who visited it aware of the debt they owe to the men and women who had the courage to come to a strange land seeking freedom and paid for the privilege with lives of service and accomplishment. It could also serve as a source of inspiration to foreign visitors who would have a chance to reflect on how earlier immigrants succeeded when they were given the chance.

There could be no more appropriate site for an American Museum of Immigration than in the shadow of the statue of the lady who has welcomed so many immigrants to our shores. The mementoes of their success and accomplishments would be as gifts laid at her feet by her adopted children.

ONE CANDLE

Unless we can live in peace with the person who is our next-door neighbor, how can we hope for peace in the world?

Unless we can banish bigotry, prejudice and envy from our hearts in our relationships with the people we see and work with every day we cannot hope to understand the people who speak a different language and have been raised in different traditions and customs.

We are, all of us, concerned about ways to avoid war, to stop the spread of godless communism, to ease the tensions that have made modern life a nightmare. Most of us can do little about international affairs; but we can deal with the problems of our own communities, can apply there the principles of our religious beliefs. If we do that, the little part of the world in which we live will be better and the whole world will be better and happier at least to that extent.

It is better, the saying goes, to light one candle than to curse the darkness.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

The "London Times" has probably saved the British Empire by publishing "want ads" and similar trifles on its front page, keeping the important news for page five or six. Perhaps that is why Sir Winston Churchill and not Aneurin Bevan is Prime Minister. If this is logic, make the most of it!

The struggle for space on Page One of the principal newspapers of this country has turned many a sober, decent statesman into a burlap actor who sees an opportunity to become a national figure by doing things that ordinarily would revolt his sensibilities. It was Senator Kefauver, the great reformer, in association with Rudolph Halley, the man with the nasal lip, who made televising a Congressional hearing the greatest show on earth. And thenceforth, the statesmen who exhibited themselves on that show were known to millions of citizens who had never heard of them before. They became Front Page news and having seized so glorious a position, they continue to cultivate it to what they believe is their advantage.

One of the main objections to Joe McCarthy is that he manages to hold space on Page One, come what may. If he does not make what seems to be startling news about himself, his enemies do it for him. If he does not stir up excitement over a "Fifth Amendment Communist," or the conduct of General George Marshall, his opponents accuse Joe McCarthy of such grievous improprieties that they, the improprieties, vie with our defeat in Indochina, a murder or two, and several kidnappings—and Joe comes out on Page One. Not even an FBI arrest of several Communists takes Joe off the front page. There must be a reason.

Other Senators are grieved by this monopoly and weep in their sleeves over it. They try their hardest to do something which will push Joe off Page One and only too often they fail. Exactly why they care is beyond me because it is a fact in political history that some of the quietest members of the Senate have been the most often re-elected. Perhaps it is coming home to Mrs., and hearing her say:

"That Joe McCarthy! How does he manage to grab Page One! And you work so hard and only get into the 'Congressional Record'."

"And the pictures they take of Joe McCarthy and his lovely Jeannie!"

It is a fact that some of the committee chairmen, who feel that their work is at least as important as Joe McCarthy's, if not more so, are miserable at the failure of the Washington reporters and the columnists to pay any attention to them. They do not even distort things about them; they do not even attack them. The Left Wing press does not notice and the Right Wing press cannot spell their names correctly. They are the forgotten important men of the nation—and they hate it.

For the White House press agents, Congressional grabbing of Front Page space is always a pain in any part of the anatomy you can think of. They generally feel that they are entitled to all the space in the newspaper that they can get located to the Government. Roosevelt set the fashion of space-grabbing and since his day, which is not as remote as it seems to be, the White House handout has become a problem to those whose business it is to condense or distort or slant what is to be printed. Much of it has to be thrown away, particularly the stuff that comes from the various departments of the Government.

Many officials know that and arrange to say what they have to tell from the White House steps in the hope that that will make it important.

Surely, if one uses an adding machine or a slide rule or whatever one needs to compute such data, it would be found that since Eisenhower became President, McCarthy has had more Page One space than anybody. And it must bother those who want the space for themselves.

Even the wisest of men cannot solve this problem because as long as Joe is anybody else is not news, the Front Page will be his. Imagine what space Joe will get should he be censured and he goes into the States of his enemies and beats out their brains with their own records!

THE FRAMES HOSTEL FOR ALCOHOLICS

I write about alcoholism and alcoholics frequently because it and they are a real problem in our world today. Organizations such as Alcoholics Anonymous are doing a wonderful job in this field but there is still much to be done. Alcoholism is considered from such widely different points of view: It is called everything from a crime to a disease. In the Journal of the American Medical Association we are told about the Frames Hostel for Alcoholics run in Norway which celebrates its 30th anniversary this year.

This institution is for the "open" care of alcoholics who are free to come and go as they like. They are hand-picked by the doctors who refer them to the hostel in that they have been carefully studied by their doctors and judged fit to be allowed considerable liberty but even with this careful weeding out several new admissions are refused as unsuitable for the "open" treatment. Most of those who remain tend on arrival to be suspicious and on the defensive and to regard themselves as the innocent victims of unfortunate circumstances. How familiar this sounds to those who have known or attended these individuals.

Once admitted to the hostel, they are encouraged to work and show initiative in entertaining one another. When leaving the hostel for short visits home, they were at one time provided with disulfiram tablets (Antabuse) but this practice has been given up and these tablets are now issued only if the patient asks for them. It has been found to be a very satisfactory arrangement to allow their wives to visit them for several days at a time.

The director, Dr. Baklund, has found that it is not wise to encourage young patients to remain long at the hostel, having found that even the recommendation for a long stay has a most depressing effect on the patient. Elderly patients, however, may require more prolonged treatment and are usually more willing to undertake it.

Dr. Baklund believes there should be an elaborate system for the care of alcoholics, with a central hospital for treatment and research and a variety of services ranging from the "open" hostel to the labor camp, with effective follow-up supervision. He is in favor of a careful psychiatric examination and observation before admission so that the proper choice of institution can be made in each case.

veying work. In 1757, when he became a colonel, he made this his headquarters while supervising the erection of Fort Loudoun.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA)—The keynote speech for the 1954 congressional election campaign will probably be delivered Aug. 19 when President Eisenhower speaks at the Illinois State Fair Grounds in Springfield.

This occasion is expected to develop into a White House "laying on of hands" to bless the candidacy of Republican Joseph T. Meek, who is running to unseat the incumbent Democratic Sen. Paul Douglas.

President Eisenhower recently wrote Mr. Meek, saying that he "looked forward with anticipation" to greeting Mr. Meek in Washington next January as the new junior senator from Illinois.

"Looking forward with anticipation" is of course a lot easier than looking forward in retrospect. There is no particular strain on the credulity for anyone who can just shut out the past.

But political experts who are familiar with the record and past utterances of Mr. Meek have been wondering how or why Mr. Eisenhower's aides allowed him to get caught so far out on a limb in endorsing the Meek candidacy. This is particularly emphasized by two facts.

1. President Eisenhower had originally said that he would endorse no individual candidates. This was later altered to a statement that the President would endorse only those candidates who had supported his program.

2. The supposedly independent Citizens for Eisenhower committee had recently refused support for Mr. Meek because he did not support the President's program.

Mr. Meek's record in not supporting the President's legislative program is both clear and extensive.

At Urbana, on Feb. 25, Mr. Meek declared that "The mavericks and hybrids in Washington today, passing as Republicans, are enough to turn your stomach."

On March 23, Mr. Meek came out for a flexible farm price support program, as advocated by President Eisenhower. At the Harvard, Ill., Milk Day celebration on June 5, however, Mr. Meek declared: "I don't think the farmer needs any political recipe. He'll solve his own problems if he is given freedom to do so." This is taken to mean that he is now against all price supports.

At Mount Vernon, Ill., on April 30, Mr. Meek said: "I am a Republican but I am not too happy with my party nor with its embracement of too many relics of the past."

While this might be taken as a repudiation of conservatism and an endorsement of progressive Republicanism, that is not Mr. Meek's record. He was a Taft supporter in 1952 and he is closely identified with Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, who was Taft's choice for vice president. The "relics" Meek complained of were Democratic policies.

Mr. Meek favored Senator Bricker's proposed amendment to the Constitution, to redefine the President's treaty-making powers. President Eisenhower opposed it. On May 14, Mr. Meek said, "I won't change my support for the Bricker amendment."

On foreign aid, which President Eisenhower had supported, Mr. Meek on June 6 at Springfield declared: "It's high time we had someone in Washington who will rear up and scream to high heaven about American citizens being sold down the river to keep the rulers of foreign countries in luxury."

Earlier he had said: "The United States must at all costs walk alone rather than get involved with ingrate and insincere nations."

The strongest endorsement of President Eisenhower which Mr. Meek has given so far is a rhetorical question: "How can be anti-Eisenhower if I am for the platform on which he was elected?" He has declared that this platform was "one of the finest, most hopeful documents ever devised."

A careful check of Mr. Meek's statements in his own "Retail News Briefs" reveals, however, that he has opposed the Republican platform plank on government loans to small business, Taft-Hartley labor law revision, social security, the minimum wage, equal pay for women and fair employment practices.

This record poses a serious problem for President Eisenhower. If such a record can be an endorsement from the White House, then anyone wearing a Republican label can win it.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, Aug. 18 — Some editors think that because we published certain information once as spot news when it was disclosed years ago, we have finished our duty to the American public as to that historical knowledge. But many millions of our people were too young to comprehend or even remember many developments which affected their fate as people and citizens. Many millions were preoccupied in war. Consequently we actually have a very great element who simply are ignorant of facts which should be contained in their knowledge of the history of their country and the world within their own time.

If we go back to the beginning of the Roosevelt era in 1933, 21 years ago, and agree that children of 14 are beneath the age of political reason, we must sweep into this great mass of unenlightened Americans another "group" of unmeasurable size. All told they would seem to me to be a majority.

So it is reasonable to ask what our duty as a free press is now. Should we tell such facts over and over so that those who were listening to other interesting sounds when they should have been listening to the voice of doom may know what they missed?

I think we should warn over the decisive occurrences. Recognition of Soviet Russia; Roosevelt's absolute repudiation and violation of his campaign platform of 1932; the trick of lend-lease put over on Congress in stealth by Roosevelt and Morgenthau; the UN conference under Alger Hiss in San Francisco; the Tehran, Yalta and Potsdam sell-outs to Russia and the suppression of the timely warning about Pearl Harbor which, at least, would have given our people a fighting chance to save the fleet and their lives. After all, 3,000 American service men were wiped out in that hour.

I think we should tell these millions the facts about the financial exploitation of the presidency and of the White House by Roosevelt, himself, his children, all but Johnny, his wife and the web of other relatives who latched onto the pay-rolls. About the delivery of millions of citizens to the unions as taxable subjects through the Labor Relations Act designed by Communists and the Labor Relations Board, loaded with Com-

Republicans Are Emerging as Liberal Party, Eisenhower as True Leader

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Aug. 20 — The Republican party is emerging as the liberal party of the nation, and President Eisenhower as the truly liberal leader.

This is because, under the acid test of what is or is not liberalism, the Republican party's leadership has taken the position that it will not punish its minority for dissenting views but will embrace within the fold the nominees of the Republican party as chosen by the people in their respective state primaries. Freedom of thought is the basic principle of liberalism.

All such things as "purges" of party nominees by the President and Mr. Eisenhower has been variously represented as adopting the Truman-Roosevelt view of party "leadership," which is really a form of dictatorship. That same view was adopted by Adlai Stevenson in the campaign of 1952 and has just been reiterated by him.

Mr. Eisenhower, on the other hand, feels that Republicans can differ conscientiously and that some of the men who did not vote for certain parts of his legislative program did so in the honest belief that they were voting as their constituents wanted them to vote.

The support of President Eisenhower in the coming campaign for those of his party who differed with him not only is liberalism and tolerance at its best but it recognizes the very important liberal principle that the voters themselves, through their freedom of choice in the primaries, shall decide who is entitled to wear the party label in a campaign.

This has a direct bearing on the appearance just made by Mr. Eisenhower at the Illinois State Fair, where he was on the same platform with Joseph Meek, the Republican senatorial nominee in Illinois who previously had expressed different views from the President on various national issues. From a practical political standpoint, it has always been argued that the party leader who helps a congressional nominee get elected has a better chance of winning his support in congressional votes next time than if the nominee wins the election despite the leader's open opposition.

But the fundamental principle involved is that the party nominees cannot justly be repudiated by a President and that, once the people have elected the party nominees, the President is in duty bound to support them.

But what about the regular Republican voters? What is their responsibility? There's an interesting situation in New Jersey, for example, where former Representative Clifford Case won the Republican senatorial nomination in the primaries. He is facing a rebellion of Republican voters because of his record in the House of Representatives, which it is charged resembled the New Deal. In addition to this, he made a foolish statement after his nomination this year about his intention, if elected, to vote against the selection of Senator McCarthy for a committee chairmanship next January if the Republicans win control of the Senate. What he might have with propriety said was that he would vote against Senator McCarthy in the Republican conference, where a slate of chairmen is usually prepared in advance of a formal vote by the Senate. Had he done so, he would have been expressing his convictions—and he has as much right to his views as any other Republican—but he would not then be saying, in effect, that he would cast a vote to put the Democrats in control of the Senate if by chance one vote would decide the issue of control.

Mr. Case still has an opportunity to clarify his position, as his original statement was vague on that point. Once he agrees to accept the obligations of a Republican nominee elected to the Senate—which includes voting for the slate chosen by a party majority for chairmanship—he is entitled to go before the voters as a Republican and to express his views on any issues that he wishes.

This does not mean that Mr. Case necessarily can win the election, because he is up against the problem of persuading Republican voters to cast their ballots for him, and no one is bound by his actions under the American system. He can change parties at will. But Mr. Case's chances of winning the support of regular Republicans will be improved if he indicates an intention to remain loyal to the Republican party and to accept the judgment of the party conference in the Senate on matters of committee control.

Senator Morse of Oregon, who classifies himself as an "independent" but who was nominated in the Republican primaries and elected in 1950, has a different concept of his responsibility to the Republican constituency which elected him. He feels that next year, if the Democrats win control, he can vote with them.

This could mean that perhaps he would intend to be a candidate in the Republican primaries again. But the important point is that Mr. Eisenhower is taking the truly liberal position when he says that he will support all Republican nominees and will not try to impose any "thought control" or "conformity of thought" on the nominees of the Republican party. He would be obliged under this doctrine to support Mr. Morse if the latter were renominated by the Republican party next time.

It's really a liberal viewpoint, and it is unfortunate that the Democratic leadership under Mr. Stevenson is still sticking to the reactionary concept that a clique of men can disregard the choice of the voters for members of Congress in the Democratic party primaries.

tify that shortly before "recognition" Frankfurter admonished a roomful of eager beavers to quit agitating because recognition was in the bag.

Mr. Hoover said this deed of FDR's "opened the floodgates for a torrent of traitors." That is strong language. He accuses Roosevelt and a whole regime of treason. We should have a legal provision for the extermination of traitors by death. Treason is, or used to be, so hideous that we can't, or could not imagine conduct more hideous.

"Our tacit alliance with Soviet Russia spread communism over the earth," said Mr. Hoover. Do these millions know that? I doubt that they do. I know that Roosevelt and his Democratic Party wrought this horrible disaster to humanity.

"Our acquiescence in the annexation by Russia of the Baltic states at Moscow and the partition of Poland at Tehran extinguished the liberties of tens of millions. Worse still was the appeasement and surrender of Yalta to ten nations to slavery, presided over by Eleanor Roosevelt's friend, Alger Hiss, whom she defended in published writings when he was on trial.

I doubt that we perform our duty in just printing this speech. I am absolutely sure that the press should highlight the significance of these things when they happened.

BABSON on BUSINESS

Gloucester, Mass., Aug. 19—I am disturbed by the recent trend in our foreign relations. Despite the expenditure of billions of dollars abroad in military and economic aid, we have not been having much success in selling America and American ideals to other peoples.

Our foreign relief and rehabilitation programs, including the great Marshall Plan which, together with Point Four, did so much to put Western Europe back on its feet, were good ideas. They stimulated economic activity here at home and they aided countless millions of people in Europe and Asia. But they served also to antagonize some people abroad and to create mistrust.

Poor Sales Work

In other words, our government spent much time, effort, and money on a big promotional campaign that almost fizzled. Why? I think we failed because our official personnel abroad—our salesmen, if you will—did not know exactly what they were selling and did not trouble to ascertain the real needs of the foreign countries which were their "customers." That was not good diplomacy, or good politics, or good business. Although we are a mighty nation, we cannot afford such poor "sales performance."

Our foreign policy has been directed by a number of very capable men. I do not blame them for the fact that it has backfired so often in recent years. They have had hard sledding, with crisis following upon crisis. They improvised, and perhaps did the best they could. Meanwhile, the State Department has provided good berths for generous contributors to political party "war chests."

More Efficient Foreign Service Needed

We need more efficiency and ability in the State Department, and particularly in the conduct of its overseas operations. Next year, Congress should give careful study to effecting improvements. It could provide for recruiting Foreign Service personnel by establishing scholarship training programs somewhat like the one which has worked so well for the Navy's Reserve Officer Training Corps.

An alternate measure would be the founding of a Foreign Service Academy to train men and women especially for overseas service in the diplomatic field. This new academy would be supervised carefully by the government itself. Its standards would be comparable to those of West Point or Annapolis, which have had great success in their respective fields. Money will not secure promotion in either of these institutions.

Incentives Are Lacking

While we are waiting for Congress to decide how best to recruit and train Foreign Service officers, something should be done about improving the morale and performance of those who now represent our interests abroad. I am told that the Foreign Service Officer Corps is at the lowest numerical strength in five years—and this at a time when world tensions are very high. Promotions among these men are too uncommon. Few incentives for doing a better job are offered to them.

Men have served in the Foreign Service for as long as 20 years without having passed more than two years of that service in the United States itself. Such a condition of exile is poor policy. These men cannot be effective exponents of the American way of life unless they are given frequent opportunities to come back home. How else are they to obtain really first-hand knowledge of the needs which should shape our national policy?

Let's Face Reality

We have developed a dynamic domestic economy which has met many challenges. We should also have a dynamic foreign policy. Our frontiers now lie well beyond our shores. There must be a way to attract our best men to work for our interests abroad. We must find that way if we are to preserve our own freedom and get our share of the world's raw materials, of which we stand so much in need. Our national security itself lies in the balance and depends upon more friendly allies.

I forecast that the State Department will be reorganized and operated as carefully as the Army, Navy, or Air Force Departments. No one can become a recognized general or admiral by making a monetary contribution to a political party. Some day, I forecast, the State Department will cease being used to pay off political debts to large party contributors, or to help support lame-duck politicians.

Country Girl was one of the most successful serious plays on Broadway in recent seasons. It is set in a bare and unglamorous stage where rehearsals are being sweated out. The story, charged with excitement, centers around the struggles of a seedy, alcoholic genius, Frank Elgin (Mr. Wierum), to make a comeback. Mary James is the unforgettable Georgie Elgin, the "country girl" who had married him before his downfall. The hard-driving play director, Bernie Dodd, is acted by Bernard Kates, and other favorites of the Playhouse company will also be featured.

Motor Club Plans Ladies' Auxiliary
Woodstock, Aug. 20—Following a lengthy discussion at the meeting of the Woodstock Motor Club Wednesday night at American Legion Hall, it was decided to form a committee to investigate the possibilities of forming a ladies' auxiliary to the club and offering social or associate memberships. Serving on the committee are: Douglas Frankling, chairman; Robert Smith, Woodstock, Edward Gordon and Francis Gordon, both of Saugerties.

Tentative plans were also discussed for another road rally, date to be announced.

The new club emblems, in cloth for jackets and coats, blue on a grey background, are now available to members.

It was suggested that the name of the last Road Rally, held on August 1, be designated as the Lost Trail Rally.

With safety the main topic of the meeting, a film titled The League of Frightened Men, was shown. The picture was obtained from the General Ice Cream Corporation, Schenectady, through the efforts of Douglas Frankling. The picture depicted the hazards of the road encountered daily by drivers of cars and trucks.

The following new members were voted into the club: Pat Kelley of Palenville, Charles Daley and William Burgess.

Corunna, Mich. (AP) — A Corunna firm sent a letter containing a $109 check to Dr. H. M. Allshouse, an Owosso dentist. The towns are three miles apart. It took the letter two months to make it — via Italy. A note in Italian said it was found in a newspaper mailed to Dr. Vincenzo Spatore by his parents in Owosso.

Dutchess County Fair to Present Variety of Shows

Two of the most outstanding spectacles in the country have been booked by Dutchess County Fair officials for appearances before the Grandstand at Rhinebeck, August 31 through September 4.

The first four afternoons and nights of the fair, Tuesday through Friday, Buck Steele's action-packed Frontier Days and California's famous Western Riders will go through paces of trick riding, roping and shooting, novelty circus acts, and chariot and chuck wagon races.

On the final day, Saturday, in afternoon and evening performances for the one day only, Buddy Wagner's world champion auto daredevils will present their Tournament of Thrills. In this, 22 of the World's top-ranking stunt men will put their new 1954 cars through 27 smashing and crashing events including the aerial "torpedo car" leap, terrifying head-on collisions, spectacular motorcycle thrillers, and the hair-raising "dive bomber" crash.

On Wednesday and Thursday afternoons, the grandstand show will be presented between harness races featuring some of the fastest trotters and pacers in the country—giving fairgoers a bargain "two for the price of one" in entertainment those afternoons.

On the first and final days of the fair, children will be admitted free to the grounds and to the grandstand shows to encourage parents to make the fair a "family affair."

Besides being fine entertainment, Buck Steele's show has many educational aspects seldom available at a fair, such as Chief Split Cloud and his troupe of Iroquois Indians in pistol and bow and arrow events. Indian dances, dozens of trained horses, dogs, aerial events, and other fine acts in addition to rodeo feats.

In the Northeast and Far West sections of the United States more than 98 per cent of babies are born in hospitals.

Gun Club and Legion Barbecue Scheduled

New Palts, Aug. 19—The New Palts Rod and Gun Club and the local American Legion will once join forces for their annual barbecue. Since the clubhouse no longer exists the barbecue will be held on the Gun Club grounds with the erection of a large tent in case the weather is bad.

The date is set for Sunday, Sept. 12. The barbecue will include roast beef and other roast meats with the usual fixings, raw clams before the main meal and beverage. The price of admission covers everything. The tickets must be bought in advance and can be purchased from any member of either the Gun Club or the American Legion.

Palts Stone House Day Fine Success

New Palts, Aug. 19—A report on the recent Stone House Day held in New Palts shows that the event was most successful. The weather was perfect, the crowd the largest in years, the planning and cooperation excellent and the income something over $1,500.

The idea of a pageant proved successful and the art exhibit, so capably handled by Miss Myra Gerald and Carleton Klock, added color. The luncheon evoked comments of praise, the beauty of the church and the organ recitals was much appreciated and the old houses and delightful costumes provided a field day for camera enthusiasts.

SHARING A HOUSE

A wife tells me: "My husband and I are living with his parents temporarily until we can find an apartment of our own. I would like to be able to invite some of our friends in for the evening occasionally to return their many invitations to us. I would like to know if it is necessary to ask permission of my mother-in-law before inviting them to the house. My husband and I are sharing the expense of running the house and I think under the circumstances I should be free to ask people in when I want to and that it is belittling to me to have to ask for permission. I would very much appreciate hearing from you on this matter."

It is not belittling, nor asking permission. You merely "talk it over" to see if the house is free for you to have friends in. It would be embarrassing if you asked your friends in at the same time your mother-in-law had asked her friends in. Co-operation between you is all that is necessary.

A Housewarming

Dear Mrs. Post: I would like to give a housewarming party for my mother and father who have just moved, but wonder if it would be proper since it is not a new house. If such a party is proper, will you please tell me how to word the invitations. I would like to know also what foods are generally served, and how, when there are a number of guests coming and going.

Answer: It is entirely proper—the fact is that it is their new home—it doesn't have to be newly built. Serve punch or coffee, or both, small sandwiches and, if you wish, small cakes.

Cutting In

Dear Mrs. Post: At a private dance, is it correct for any man to cut in on a couple dancing, regardless of whether he knows one or not, or is this privilege reserved only for the so-called stags who have no partners of their own.

Answer: Any man may cut in on a girl he knows—but not on one whom he doesn't. He may, however, cut in when the man is a stranger and the girl a friend.

Do you know how to reply to an introduction? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Her leaflet E-17, "Introductions," includes this information. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

The former Barbara Ellen Keene of Saugerties, was married to Howard Dixon McGrath of Poughkeepsie, Sunday afternoon in Saugerties. (Sterling photo)

Miss Barbara Keene, Howard D. McGrath Married in Saugerties

Miss Barbara Ellen Keene, daughter of Mrs. George P. Werner of 59 Post street, Saugerties became the bride of Howard Dixon McGrath, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Howard D. McGrath of Poughkeepsie, Sunday, Aug. 15, at 4 p. m. in the Saugerties Methodist Church.

The double ring ceremony by the Rev. George P. Werner, pastor of the Methodist Church and the Rev. Mr. McGrath. For the occasion the church was decorated with white gladioli and white carnations.

Mrs. John Tucker, soloist of Philadelphia rendered, Ich Liebe Dich, I Love You Truly, and The Lord's Prayer. Mrs. Roland Tonnies offered organ accompaniment and also played the traditional wedding refrains.

Given in marriage by her father, Edward L. Keene, the bride was attired in a ballerina length gown of white tulle with a scalloped neckline of white embroidered flower trim. Princess lines flared into hoop skirted fullness from a tiny waist. The headpiece consisted of a pixie cap with pearl trim which supported a shoulder length illusion veil. Her bridal bouquet was of gladioli and pearl flowers surrounding a white orchid.

The matron of honor, Mrs. John Tucker, sister of the bridegroom of Philadelphia wore a muted blue tulle gown. Yellow gladioli and pearl flowers showered from her blue tulle and lace trimmed fan. A head band of matching flowers completed the ensemble.

The bridesmaids were Miss Patricia Cunningham of Saugerties, and Mrs. Keith Meade of Dover, who wore matching gowns of muted pink tulle and carried lace trimmed fans of matching color from which blue gladioli and pearl flowers were showered in matching ribbons. They also wore head bands of matching flowers.

April Victoria, young sister of the bride served as junior bridesmaid. She wore a gown of yellow tulle with tiny flowers outlining the neck line. Her gown was fashioned with tight bodice and very full skirt and her flowers consisted of blue gladioli and pearl flowers attached to her small yellow matching fan. A headpiece of pale yellow flowers completed her ensemble.

David S. Cunningham of Saugerties served as best man and the ushers included Charles Lytle of East Orange, N. J.; the Rev. Ralph Spoor of Ellenville, and Thomas Tienam, cousin of the bridegroom of Yonkers, who served as junior usher.

A reception for 250 guests was held on the church lawn following the ceremony.

For the wedding journey to Lake George the bride chose for her traveling ensemble a navy blue box type suit with navy hat and white accessories. She also wore the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Upon return from the wedding journey the couple will make their home at Georgetown, Tex., for the coming years where the bride will continue her studies at Southwestern University where she is majoring in speech and drama.

The bride was a graduate of Grand Gorge High School and now at Southwestern is a member of Phi Mu Sorority.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Drew University has also done graduate work at New Paltz State Teachers' College and was a member of the faculty of the Fallsburg Central School.

Boy Scout Troop 82 will meet in the firehouse at 7:30 p. m. each Wednesday. The weekend camping hike to Silver Hollow was a "huge" success, it is reported.

Miss Barbara Clark of Port Ewen spent an evening with Mrs. J. Rodden last week.

Mrs. J. Cunneen of Jersey City, N. J., is visiting with her daughter Mrs. William Gibbons and family.

The ladies' auxiliary is forming a party to go to Woodstock Thursday, Aug. 26, to see the play, Those Interested May Contact Grace Tisler or Marion Gibbons before Tuesday, Aug. 24. Cars will leave the firehouse at 7:30 p. m.

THE MARQUEE

T.V. — STAGE — RADIO — RECORDS — PEOPLE

By DICK KLEINER

Pity the poor TV gag writer. Larry Gelbart, who was one of Red Buttons' stable, gets morose when he talks about the short life span of a TV skit.

"If you write a good skit for a Broadway revue," he says, it lasts a year. If you write the same skit for a television show—boom, it's over. You've got no time for bows—just run back to your typewriter and write the next one."

But there's another side to the story—if your Broadway skit is a flop, it's a quick fold. But on TV you get paid no matter how bad it is.

We are fast entering the two-TV-sets-in-every-home era. A survey just conducted in Los Angeles shows that nearly 50 per cent of the present TV owners are planning to buy a second set.

Among 1280 families interviewed, 563 said they were going to get another receiver, mostly this year or in 1955.

Why two sets? Well, the survey conducted for Admiral Corp. by Woodbury College of Los Angeles showed that the biggest reason was so the children could watch what they wanted while the parents could watch what they wanted.

That just bears out what some TV critics have said—television is kid stuff.

It is always interesting to contemplate the future. And the future of television, since it holds so much promise, is especially exciting. John Cameron Swayze is a pretty fair future-contemplator, too, although he admits that his record as a guesser-of-things-to-come isn't top drawer.

"Once," he says, with a reflective sigh, "Joe Frisco and I were playing the horses in a highly reputable bookmaking establishment. Up came a six-horse race. For some reason that now eludes me, I picked the win, place and show horses and promptly placed bets on half the field. My three horses ran fourth, fifth and sixth. You can imagine how Frisco laughed."

With that proviso, let us listen to the NBC-TV newscaster's predictions for TV:

"I've seen such remarkable things happen on TV already," he says, "that I believe the future of the medium is virtually limitless. I believe without qualification that we will see within our working span international pickups, live pickups from most any part of the globe, just as we now make them from around the nation."

Color, of course, is already with us. When everyone has color sets, think of the wonderful things in store—the Easter parade, the Tournament of Roses procession on Pasadena, the opera and a million other features.

"In the field of sports, there is bound to be devised an accepted system of giving big fights to the public without blackouts of certain areas, and I think it will come through some modest charge assessed against the viewers. The total take will be astronomical."

"I think the day will come when smart sponsors will bankroll some of the excellent features that now get slotted into bad time spots. I'm speaking of the so-called informative or even semi-educational shows. If they were properly placed on the schedule, they'd win a large, high-quality audience."

There you have Swayze's peek ahead. It all sounds encouraging. You might as well keep that TV set.

Bill McClure, one of the cameramen assigned to CBS-TV's "See It Now," has three cars. But don't go around envying him too much—he's a roving cameraman, and has a car in each—London, Paris and Frankfurt.

Winners of nine straight games, the Elks Club tossers are 1954 champions of the Fraternat Youth Baseball League.

The K.P.A. nine made it official yesterday with a 2-1 triumph over the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

That removed the last obstacle to the Elks' clear claim to the title, since all contenders now have at least four losses with only three games left to play for the Antlers.

Giannuzzi Stars
Rennie Giannuzzi made it easy for the Elks with a sparkling 2-hit job on the VFW, embellished by 13 strikeouts.

Joe Beaver, one-time strikeout artist of the Esopus Legion Little League, was a worthy opponent for Giannuzzi, yielding only four hits and striking out five.

One of the hits off Beaver was a double by Giannuzzi.
The two VFW hits were singles by Marvin Williams and Robert Strong. Gene Nagele, George Norton and Joe White hit singles for the winners.

Secretary Frank Reis has announced that the remainder of the schedule will be played out to determine runnerup positions in the final standings. Four games remain to be played.

Milwaukee Miracle Runs Into Trouble

By BEN PHLEGAR, Associated Press Sports Writer
The "history of the 1951 pennant race" became required reading for the Milwaukee Braves today.

Written into the annals of the National League by the New York Giants, this remarkable record provides convincing and recent proof that baseball miracles are possible.

Although firmly believing they are the new team of destiny, the Braves could use a little solid encouragement. They lost two out of three to St. Louis, including a 2-1, 10-inning thriller yesterday, and now trail New York by 5½ games.

Even now, however, they are much better off than the Giants were at this stage three seasons ago. The Braves have five games left with the Giants. They've lost five more than the Giants. A sweep of the five would cancel out the New York lead. The Braves and Brooklyn play six more times and the Braves have lost only two more than the Dodgers.

In 1951 the Giants trailed Brooklyn by seven games as late as Sept. 1. They were still six games behind in the losing column on Sept. 20.

Giants on Beam
The Giants, apparently back in good health after a critical slump, won their third in a row, 5-0 over Philadelphia. Brooklyn again had to hustle for a 7-5 verdict over the scrappy Pittsburgh Pirates. Cincinnati took two from Chicago 7-0 and 6-3.

The American League race saw some changes for the first time in 10 days as Detroit ended Cleveland's winning streak at nine games and New York and Chicago both won.

Detroit and Cleveland split a twin bill. The Indians won the first game 4-3 but lost the nightcap 8-2. The Yankees whipped Philadelphia 8-5 for their 10th straight and Chicago edged Baltimore 4-3.

Cleveland now leads New York by 2½ and Chicago by 8½. Boston jumped ahead of Washington in their private battle for fifth place with an 11-6 triumph. Ted Williams broke his string of 17 hitless times at bat with a single and a double.

Ruben Gomez tamed the Phillies on seven hits and received home run support from Davey Williams, Ray Katt and Bobby Morgan.

The last place Pirates refused to fold, even when Brooklyn ran up a 7-0 lead in the first three innings on Gil Hodges' 32nd homer and a bases-loaded triple by Walt Moryn.

The Braves drew 48,057 to an afternoon ladies' day contest with the Cardinals, the largest crowd ever squeezed into County Stadium. The local darlings came from behind with two out in the ninth to tie the score at 1-1. But a triple by Wally Moon and a long fly by Solly Hemus brought victory to the Cardinals in the 10th.

Bobby Feller won the 260th game of his career in the opener against Detroit with home run support from Vic Wertz and Dave Pope. The Tigers fell upon three Indian hurriers for 14 hits in the second game.

Baltimore ended Jack Harshman's string of scoreless innings at 34 by scoring three runs in the fifth but the White Sox held on for their one-run triumph, getting the winning tally in a two-run uprising in the eighth.

The Yankees got a late inning scare from the usually doltie Athletics who knocked out Eddie Lopat with five straight hits in the eighth. But after scoring five runs the A's were checked by Johnny Sain.

Yesterday's Stars

(By The Associated Press)

Batting—Nellie Fox, Chicago White Sox, hit a double and three singles in four times at bat and drove in the winning run in Chicago's 4-3 victory over Baltimore.

Pitching—Ruben Gomez, New York Giants, pitched his fourth shutout of the season, a seven-hitter as New York beat Philadelphia 5-0.

On Just One Hit

The Indians won the 1954 Esopus Legion Little League championship yesterday in a manner that sent the baseball purists screaming to the hills.

If you can visualize a team winning all the blue chips on one solitary hit and by a 11-7 margin, that's what happened at Ross Field against the Giants.

The victory gave the Tribe two straight in the best-of-three playoff.

Babe Whitaker delivered a single for the lone Indian safety but five Giant pitchers contrived to issue 15 bases on balls. That made it comparatively easy for the Indians to score seven runs in the first and four in the second.

The weird contest, marked by dilatory tactics in an effort to delay the game in the onerous darkness, was called at the end of four innings.

Carter Wins Game

Johnny Carter, who went the distance for the Indians, permitted six hits, walked three and struck out six.

The five Giant flingers who toiled through that maze of bases on balls were Darrel Myers, Mario Astorga, Arthur Harris, Ed Nembhard and Curtis King.

Darrel Myers slugged two singles for the Giants and Astorga hit a two bagger.

Just to give you an idea of the harrowing circumstances under which the Indians nailed down the bunting, three Giant miscues and seven walks enabled the champions to score seven times.

Olson Heavy Choice Over Castellani

San Francisco, Calif., Aug. 20 (AP)—Middleweight king Carl (Bobo) Olson of San Francisco lays his world championship on the line tonight and is a solid favorite to retain it in a 15-round match with the nation's leading challenger, Rocky Castellani of Cleveland.

The bout will be nationally televised and broadcast by the National Broadcasting Company, with the San Francisco area blacked out of the TV picture. The show goes on at 10 p. m. EST.

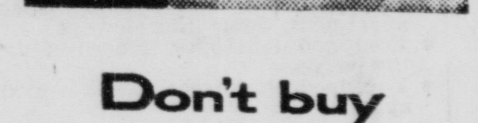

The setting is the spacious Cow Palace and promoter Benny Ford believes the attraction will virtually fill the near 18,000 seat capacity. His associates, President James Norris and others in the International Boxing Club, trust his optimism is sound.

The balding 26-year-old Olson captured the middleweight crown from Randy Turpin of England in 1953, turned back the threat of Kid Gavilan in Chicago last April in one of his greatest fights, and he hasn't been beaten in his last 15 trips inside the ropes.

Castellani, at 28 a seasoned ringman without much of a punch—less, in fact, than the champion, who is not famous for chipping his foes—has not been whipped in 10 straight matches.

Leahy Not Interested

Denver, Aug. 20 (AP)—Frank Leahy, who retired this year as Notre Dame's football coach, said today he "definitely is not interested" in the Air Academy coaching job, or any other. The new service school, which will open its first classes in Colorado next July, is looking for a grid coach.

Finalists Set In Caddie Golf

Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 20 (AP)—Four 17-year-olds went into the 36-hole semi-finals of the $5,000 scholarship ninth annual caddie golf championship today, and it looked like a wide-open race.

The draw sends Rino Della Flora of Columbus against Dick Burgoon of Harrisburg, Pa., and Eugene Borek of Yonkers, N. Y., against Gene Card of Columbus.

Della Flora and Card, who helped Aquinas High School win the Ohio four-man scholastic championship the last two years, manufactured the big upsets in yesterday's quarter-finals.

Card, the Buckeye junior champion who still has a year of high school play left, came from three behind at the turn to take a 19 hole victory over John Chimenti of Harrisburg, Pa., who finished third a year ago here.

Della Flora, after going 21 holes against Rand Newby of Erie, Pa., in the morning session, was an easy 4 and 3 victor over Dick Hauff of Chicago, the tourney medalist and odds-on favorite. Hauff's putter failed him in the afternoon round, and he was five down at the end of nine holes.

Armstrong Runs K String to 90

Final Standings (Second Half)
	Won	Lost
Sprague Electric	9	0
Moose Lodge	5	4
Lions Club	2	7
Electrol	2	7

Hobart Armstrong struck out 13 batters and Sprague Electric completed a sweep of both halves of the American Little League pennant race with 14 consecutive victories.

Armstrong's latest exploit was a 9-6 triumph over Electrol in a game in which the champions had to rally for five runs in the fifth to pull it out of the fire.

Sprague's 14 straight are, of course, an all-time Little League record.

According to Secretary Jake Chichelsky, the 90 strikeouts in the second round by Armstrong is believed to be a league record.

Charlie Boice of the Moose Lodge was only one behind the Sprague ace.

Armstrong allowed Electrol four hits, including doubles by Paul Gardner, Walt Harder and Don Dittus. Bruce Fiore hit a triple.

Tom Ashdown Stars
Tommy Ashdown of the Electrol trapped Paul Gardner for a double and homer. Armstrong hit a double and single and Gary Barnes rapped a double. Gardner fanned eight.

In the season's finale, Moose Lodge Red Sox scored five runs in the third and held off a late Lions Club thrust to win 6-5.

Charlie Boice, the Moose's all-round ace, tied Armstrong for home run honors with his fourth of the season. He also had a single among the Moose's six hits off Pete Zech.

The Lions had seven hits off three Moose fingers, including two singles by Ed O'Connor, Mike Sangaline's double and a triple by Pete Zech.

Burke Fires 66 At Fort Wayne

Fort Wayne, Ind., Aug. 20 (AP)—Jack Burke, Jr., of Kiamasha Lake, N. Y., led a closely packed field of money players into the second round of the $15,000 Fort Wayne Open golf tournament today.

Burke, who is second in total winnings on the pro circuit this year, yesterday shot 34-32-66, six strokes under par, but 26 other pros and two amateurs were bunched within four strokes back.

The course was heavy from a rainstorm, but in spite of the short roll and soft greens Burke drove the 275-yard 17th green and dropped a 15-foot putt for an eagle 2. He had five birdies and went over par only once.

One stroke back of Burke at 67 were Glen Teal of Jacksonville, Fla., and Jerry Kesselring of Kitchener, Ont., two players far down the list of money winners. There were six at 68, seven at 69 and 13 at 70.

Ansonia, Conn.—Calvin Davis, 150, New York outpointed Barry Allison, 144, Westover Field, Mass., 8.

A response of one no-trump to your partner's opening bid usually shows a count of about 6 or 7 points. When an opponent makes an intervening bid, there is no need for you to bid with so poor a hand. If you do bid, therefore, you show a good hand rather than a poor one.

In today's hand, South's free response of one no-trump showed at least one stopper in spades, no-trump distribution, and a count of about 10 to 12 points. With 13 points or more, South probably would have jumped to two no-trump.

Since North held 15 points and a good suit he could see that the combined count was probably enough for game. He therefore raised to two no-trump, after which South promptly went on to the game.

The game contract would have been easy if South had possessed two stoppers in spades, as he thought he did. Correct defense held him to one spade trick and defeated his contract.

West opened the deuce of spades, not the queen. East put up the ace of spades and returned the suit, and South could make only one spade trick.

When the hand was actually played, South finessed the jack of spades at the second trick, and West won with the queen. West returned a spade, clearing the suit. South could not make his game contract without setting up the clubs, and East was able to gain the lead with the ace of clubs in order to cash the rest of the spades.

If West had opened the Queen of spades (the lead that many beginners would mistakenly consider proper), declarer would have made his contract. This lead would give South two spade tricks, and he would then be able to run nine tricks with four hearts, and three diamonds to add to the spades.

No Sanction

Because he would have nothing to do with that Yankee holiday, President Andrew Jackson refused to give Thanksgiving Day the customary presidential sanction during his term of office.

I see by the papers that Senator Flanders has gone off on vacation to Great Britain, just as the six-man "judgment" committee of the Senate is about to hold hearings in order to rule in some fashion on the McCarthy censure proposal.

This is extraordinary, isn't it? Here the man who started all the fuss about the Senator from Wisconsin runs off to England just when he would suppose he would be asked (as Senator McCarthy demands) to repeat his charges in the formal hearings. Odd, too, when you know the Senate has not yet adjourned.

This whole McCarthy hysteria has the Ruminator befuddled. Perhaps you can straighten him out. By the way, I have been told to eschew the McCarthy question in my writings, in order to avoid arguments. But inasmuch as these columns are not written for either pia-heads or egg-heads I see no reason to dodge a subject which is symptomatic of the socio-political trends. Readers of this newspaper are quite able to make up their minds on these questions of large public interest. The McCarthy issue is important because it influences on our trends of "life." To dodge it, or refuse to examine it rationally and objectively, would be like refusing to look at the barometer for fear it would forecast a hurricane.

Taking the public as a whole (the "inarticulate crowd" as contrasted with the "vociferous groups") the average citizen seems to see and feel the Communist menace keenly. Your average citizen, then, is probably not acutely anti-McCarthy, although he may be irritated by, and object to, what he might term the McCarthy mannerisms. From the various polls which have been conducted I gather that the average citizen believes that the McCarthy (and Jenner) probes are essential, and endorses them.

Then we have the large (and growing) articulate and vociferous groups that cannot find words strong enough to register their antipathy to McCarthy—and what is disturbing, to what McCarthy stands for. They use such terms as Hitlerism, fascism, and other "semantics" to serve their propaganda purposes.

The Cuban Giant is looking over the property with an eye toward making it his training headquarters for a forthcoming bout with Don Cockell, the British heavyweight champion.

Red Sails Scores Upset at Yonkers

Yonkers, Aug. 20 (AP)—The rain and mud of Westchester county must have cooled off the terrible temper of Red Sails.

The 6-year-old horse owned by H. T. King of Lynn, Ind., considered the toughest, roughest and most dangerous horse in harness racing, came home a winner over 10 other speedy pacers in the $28,500 Good Time Pace at Yonkers Raceway last night.

Gene Sears drove Red Sails, chestnut son of the Abbott-Mari-gold, to a three lengths victory over Philip Scott, owned by the Gray brothers of East Providence, R. I., and G. W. Reed, Gorham, Me.

Hillsota, owned by the estate of William E. Miller, Washington, D. C., was the 9-3 favorite, but the muddy track wasn't to his liking and he wound up seventh.

Last week at Roosevelt Raceway, Hillsota set a world record of 3:04 4/5, for the mile and one-half in the $35,000 Nassau pace. But he wasn't doing it this time, while Red Sails spashed under the wire in 3:15 1/5, which was considered good time considering the track conditions.

Pocasset, Mass., Aug. 20 (AP)—If Princeton wants to get tough that's what it's going to get in Wayne Reagan, Reagan, who reports for the Princeton freshman football team in the fall, crashed headlong into a parked automobile while doing some night sprinting-training on an unlighted street.

India Progresses, Kiwanis Is Told

India, seven years after gaining its independence, is making progress in many fields, Robinson Koilpillai, of that nation, told members of the Kiwanis Club at a meeting Thursday noon at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Koilpillai, a headmaster at a high school in India, is now in this country as an exchange student. He studied at New Paltz since September last year, and will leave in about two weeks for another year's study in California. Dr. Donald Allen, foreign student advisor at New Paltz, was also a guest at the meeting.

When India became independent on August 15, 1947, Koilpillai said, only 14 per cent of its people was literate. Now the percentage has increased to 20. Although hampered during the first five years of independence by famine, the country is making progress and hopes by 1957 to be self-sufficient in food, he said, adding that his people "deeply appreciate" the assistance given them in the meantime by the United States.

India, with two-thirds the area of the United States, has twice the population, or 360 million.

Blackout Is Caused

Yonkers, Aug. 20 (AP)—Two cats on a transformer caused a brief blackout yesterday in 5,000 local homes and 1,100 street lights. Tracing the cause of the power failure, Consolidated Edison Co. officials found one dead cat at a transformer of the Habirshaw Cable and Wire Co. A Habirshaw employee said there originally were two cats on the line, with one getting electrocuted by 13,000 volts and the other leaping to safety.

Completes Course As Driver Teacher

Guido Zambarnardi today completed a two-week basic course in the Teaching of Driver Education held at the State University of New York College for Teachers at Albany.

Zambarnardi was one of 31 recipients of tuition scholarships made available from a grant to the college to promote the extension and improvement of driver education in schools. Twenty-five such grants have been awarded to colleges throughout the nation.

Assisting the college staff in conducting the course were consultants from many agencies and organizations, including the American Automobile Association, the Bureau of Adult Education, School Bus Transportation, and Driver Education of the State Department of Education, the State Motor Vehicle Bureau, and the Petroleum Institute.

The objective of the course was to prepare candidates for teaching positions in driver education in the schools of New York state. Some of these trainees will inaugurate new courses in their schools, some of them will replace instructors who have left their positions, and some will be added to their school staffs to augment the driver education program.

To Accept Increase

New York, Aug. 20 (AP)—Pressmen on New York city newspapers have voted overwhelmingly to accept a $3.75 a week package increase recommended earlier by a fact-finding panel. The pressmen thus became the last mechanical employees on New York papers to come to terms with the Publishers Assn. of New York. The wage pattern was set last December when the fact-finders' recommendations ended an 11-day strike by photo engravers. The strike closed down all but one of the city's major newspapers.
